WINDHAM DYNAMIC GLOBAL

GROWTH

PORTFOLIO OBJECTIVE

The Windham Dynamic Global Growth strategy seeks significant capital appreciation but with greater risk of downside loss and volatility of returns.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

Risk throughout the global markets vary through time. Windham's investment process employs proprietary measurements that seek to identify and capitalize on changes in the risk environment, by distinguishing between periods when risk is rewarded and when risk is penalized. We used tools developed within Windham to assess the market's susceptibility to a broad sell-off and to identify unusual behavior within and between global asset classes. By measuring the characteristics of global assets daily, we are able to categorize distinct risk environments that allow us to anticipate changes in the market environment. Once a change in the risk environment is identified we structure an optimal multi-asset class portfolio to take advantage of the prevailing environment. We invest in highly liquid ETFs and ETNs, which allow our clients the opportunity achieve successful diversification by adapting to changes in market risk.

Current Portfolio Positioning and the Risk Environment

Risk Concentration	Low
Turbulence	Low
Portfolio Positioning	Overweight Growth Assets

Our measures indicate a calm risk environment. The asset allocation of the Windham Dynamic Global – Growth is allocated to a diverse mix of equities, real estate, and commodities with an overweight to growth assets. We continue to analyze the risk environment daily. Should our risk measures show change, we are prepared to adjust the asset allocation accordingly.

We use proprietary measures of risk concentration and turbulence to measure the risk environment. Risk concentration measures the market's susceptibility to a broad market sell-off. Turbulence measures unusual relationships within and between asset classes.

INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

At Windham, we believe markets are macro-inefficient and risk is constantly changing. We seek to exploit inefficiencies by successfully identifying global risk factors that drive the markets and adjusting our portfolios to align favorably as the risk environment changes.
